

Alpine Avalanche Kills Star U.S., West German Skiers

15 Safe After 'Nightmare' Slide

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP)—Buddy Werner, the hard-luck American ski star, lost a desperate race with an avalanche Sunday and was killed under tons of snow.

The 28-year-old Olympian was taking part in the filming of a ski fashions movie with other top skiers when the wet spring snow thundered down an Alpine slope at Samedan, a village two miles outside of this winter resort.

The avalanche also killed Barbara (Barbi) Henneberger, 23, one of West Germany's top women skiers. Fifteen others in the group dug themselves out or were freed by rescuers.

"It was a nightmare," said Fritz Wagnerberger, 27, a veteran German racer.

"We left early in the morning and chose what looked like a safe slope. Avalanches are frequent in the spring, but they rarely come down in the morning."

"We were crossing the slope in a file while the crew was filming when all of a sudden the snow gave way under our skis. It was about 10 o'clock in the morning."

"Pandemonium broke out. It was terrible. We were yelling and the screams could be heard over the thunder of the snow."

"Buddy Werner raced down in front of me trying to get away. He was a little lower down and probably thought he had a chance to race away from the slide.

"Perhaps he could have done it, who can say? He got to the bottom, but then he slipped, somersaulted and was lying in the snow as the second arm of the slide crashed right on top of him."

"I think the same happened to Barbi."

Wagnerberger said those who dug themselves out rushed to where Werner and Miss Henneberger were buried and dug into the snow with bare hands. Other skiers from a nearby lift came quickly.

"In the end there were hundreds helping us," Wagnerberger said, "but for Bud and Barbi it was too late."

Miss Henneberger's body was found in eight feet of snow three hours after the slide. Werner's body was discovered an hour later in 10 feet. Both had suffocated.

Elsewhere in Switzerland, at least four Swiss were still missing after avalanches at Kuessnacht, in central Switzerland, and Sargans, near the Austrian border.

Werner, whose first name was Wallace, made his home in Steamboat Springs, Colo., but in the last decade he spent much of his time competing on the world's ski slopes. Although he never won an Olympic medal, he was the first American male skier to be taken seriously by the Europeans.

6 Killed by Tornadoes

50 Injured In 3 States

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Dazed survivors picked through the rubble of homes and business buildings today in the wake of tornadoes that slashed through eastern Kansas, western Missouri and southwestern Iowa.

Six persons were killed and at least 50 were injured. Most of the twisters snaked out of thunderstorms that could be seen for miles in the late afternoon — otherwise the toll could have been greater.

Two lines of the storms bracketed Kansas City—one to the northwest, the other southeast—and rolled rapidly to the northeast.

The dead were:

Mrs. Jack L. Wilson, 24, Independence, Kan.; Warren Kenyan Sr., 43, Neosho, Mo., and his wife, Ella, all killed near Garnett, Kan.

Charles Hedger, 13, killed in a barn near Pleasant Hill, Mo.

Victor Kerns, 50, killed near his home northwest of Leeton, Mo.

Flora Eichhorst, 90, killed in her home at Yorktown, Iowa.

One twister sucked up a line of traffic on U.S. 59 five miles south of Garnett and hurled a 50,000-pound truck, a pickup truck and six cars in all directions, killing the Kenyans and Mrs. Wilson and injuring eight other persons.

"It felt like the truck was lifted up off the highway," said Stephen A. Miller, 29, of St. Joseph, Mo., who was hauling 25,000 pounds of meat to Dallas.

The pickup truck was flung a quarter-mile. The driver, Christopher Lewis, 54, Parsons, Kan., suffered a knee injury.

Right behind Miller's truck, the Kenyan car was hurled 600 feet to one side. Another landed 600 feet on the other side of the road. The cars were smashed into twisted bits of metal.

A tornado roared over Leavenworth, Kan., not quite touching down, but close enough to damage about 75 homes, smash windows in the business district and uproot many trees. Seven persons were injured there.

Tobacco barns were flattened near Weston, Mo.

Farther on, at Yorktown, a community of 146 persons in southwest Iowa, a tornado killed Mrs. Eichhorst and injured six others.

Polish Leaders, Nikita Meet

Gomulka Supports Soviets In Dispute

MOSCOW (AP)—Polish Communist leaders arrived in Moscow today for talks to strengthen Premier Khrushchev in his bitter dispute with the Chinese Communists.

Polish Communist party boss Wladyslaw Gomulka said on his arrival with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz that the Polish and Soviet Communist parties "have the same views of the tasks of the Socialist camp, of the strategy and tactics of the international movement."

Any actions directed against the unity of Communist countries "are harmful and irresponsible," Gomulka said.

The Poles support Khrushchev against Red China, but they have been reluctant to go along with a Kremlin proposal for a showdown conference of world Communist parties.

In his television speech Sunday night, Khrushchev denounced the Chinese as "split-ters" of the world Communist movement who eventually want to take over its leadership. He made no mention of any world meeting of communism.

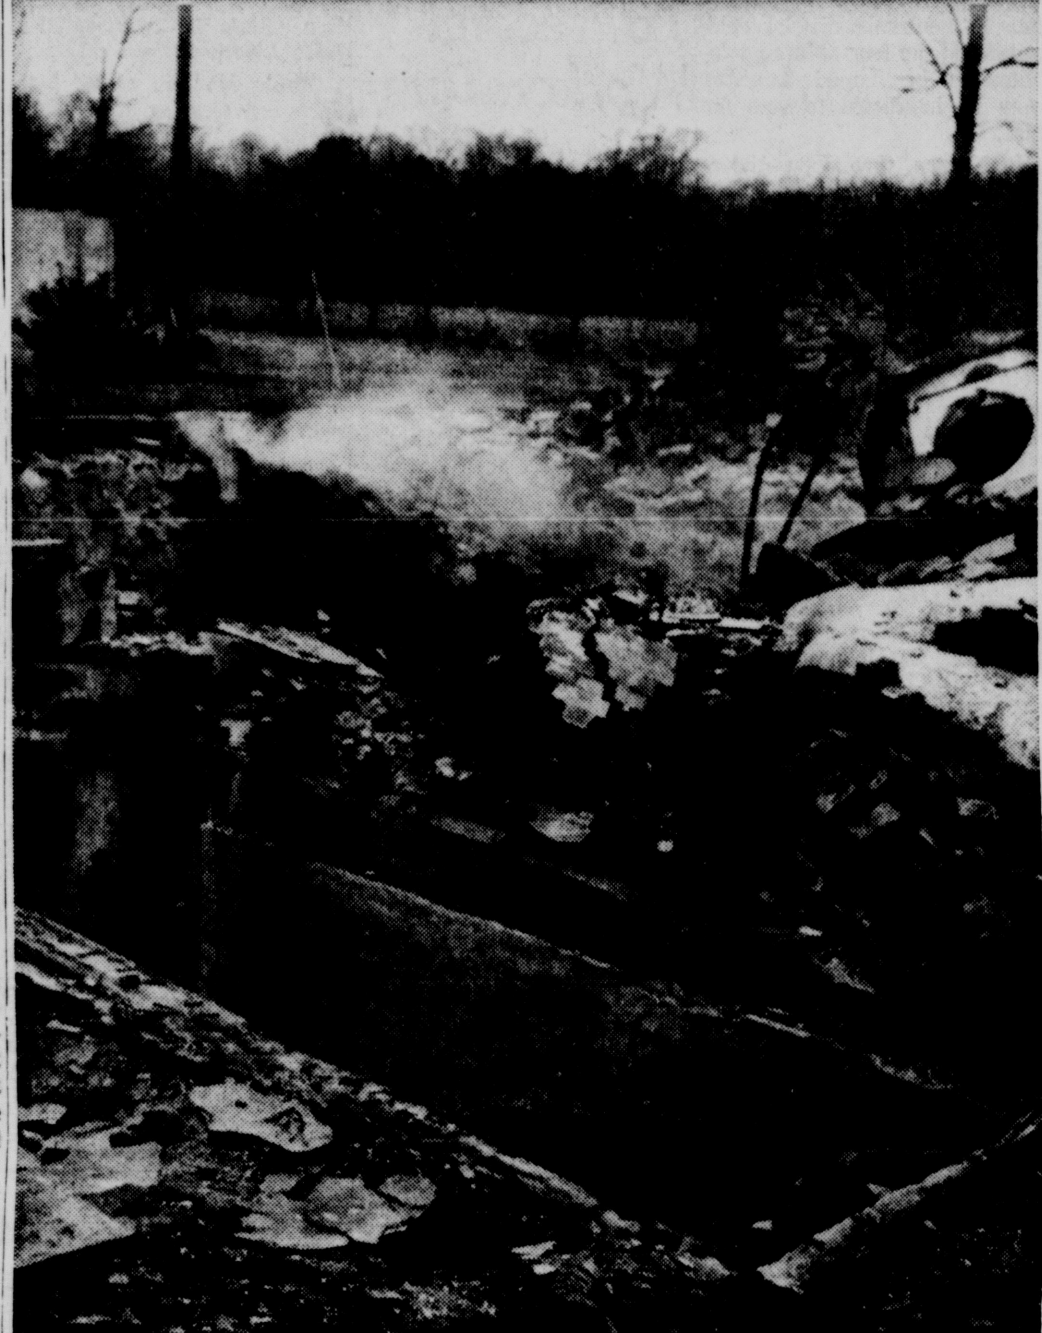

Khrushchev abandoned the Soviet Communist party's claim of dominance over world communism, saying "those times have gone, never to return."

But he said the Chinese were trying to achieve the control Stalin once exercised over the Red bloc by taking a "special course which is a blend of petty bourgeois adventurism and great-power chauvinism."

"The disruptive activities of the Chinese leaders have caused serious difficulties in the world Communist movement," Khrushchev admitted.

To deal with the problem, he called for direct meetings between Communist parties — as equals rather than teacher and pupil. He apparently has in mind the kind of direct talks he held last week with Hungarian leaders in Budapest rather than the gathering of the world's more than 90 Communist parties which Soviet ideologist Mikhail Suslov proposed.

Direct talks now begin with the Poles. The Hungarians gave Khrushchev full public support against the Chinese.

Rail Factions Resume Talks

Secrecy Shrouds Capital Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—In virtual secrecy, rail management and labor representatives resume issue-by-issue bargaining today after a fire completely destroyed their house Sunday morning.

Loss was set at $7,500 for the home and property and $3,000 for the contents. Devine reportedly had insurance covering the entire amount of the loss.

Cause of the blaze, which was whipped by strong winds, has not been determined. However, it is believed that faulty wiring may have started the conflagration. It started in the basement of the large, two-story, frame house.

Units from Salem, Damascus and Greenford fire departments fought the blaze, but were unable to save the dwelling. An outbuilding near the house was also burned down. The house itself was located about one-mile off the main road.

According to Damascus Fire Chief William Bauman, Mrs. Devine discovered the blaze at 10:52 a.m. and called the Salem Fire Department. Mr. Devine, who was away at the time, came home minutes later and called the Damascus department.

Bauman said when his trucks reached the scene "the fire was really going." He called the Greenford Department.

All that was saved from the home was a television set, three rocking chairs, a coffee table and a desk. No clothing, except what Mr. and Mrs. Devine were wearing at the time, was saved.

Devine is employed at the Eljer Enamelware Division plant in Salem.

Scout Executive to Speak to Rotarians

Bennett Taylor, executive of the Columbiana County Boy Scout Council, will speak to members of the Salem Rotary club at their noon luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Memorial Building.

Taylor, who holds the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the Army Reserve, will speak on the topic of nuclear warfare.

Rural Home Lost In Sunday Blaze

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Devine of the Sebring-Pine Lake Road, east of Route 14, are homeless today after a fire completely destroyed their house Sunday morning.

Loss was set at $7,500 for the home and property and $3,000 for the contents. Devine reportedly had insurance covering the entire amount of the loss.

3 Are Injured In Car Mishaps

Lisbon Man Hurt As Car Overturns

Two area men and a motorist from Pennsylvania were hurt in two of four traffic mishaps investigated by the Lisbon and Canfield posts of the State Highway Patrol. Three motorists were cited.

Charles Shasteen, 54, of RD 2, Lisbon, was taken to Salem City Hospital with head and neck injuries after a one-car mishap Sunday at 2 a.m. on Route 558, a mile east of East Fairfield. He is listed in fair condition.

The Lisbon Patrol said Shasteen lost control of his sedan on a curve and slid off the left side of the road. The car rolled over on its top. Damage was estimated at about $300.

Russell Shirey, 50, of Greenford suffered lacerations of the chin and possible concussion, and Raymond McKenny, 39, of Youngstown sustained lacerations of the lip and mouth when their cars collided Saturday night at 7:30 on Route 224, near McKays Corners just east of Poland.

They were taken to Youngstown South Side Hospital for treatment.

Shirey, heading west, went left of center, the Canfield Patrol reported, and struck the oncoming McKenny vehicle. Shirey was cited for reckless operation.

No one was hurt in a two-car mishap Saturday at 12:45 p.m. on Route 30 at the intersection of Route 7 north of East Liverpool. Mrs. Martha Matka, 52, of Youngstown was driving south on Route 7 when she pulled into the path of a car going northwest on Route 30 and operated by Arthur Bowersock, 18, of RD 2, Lisbon. The woman was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Cars operated by Galen Bowman, 70, of RD 1, Lisbon, and Daniel Watson, 23, of Wells-ville collided Saturday at 4 p.m. on Township Rd. 1031 (Clarkson-Pancake Rd.), 50 feet east of Route 170. Watson was backing south and struck the side of Bowman's westbound vehicle.

Vacar, Hunston Win Science Event

Two Salem boys and a Deerfield girl were among the 71 junior and senior high school students who received superior ratings at the 16th annual district Science Day Saturday at Kent State University.

Receiving the high awards, from the more than 800 entrants, were Thomas Vacar, son of Mrs. Stella Vacar of 603 Perry St., and Jay Hunston, son of Atty. and Mrs. Walter J. Hunston of 1310 E. 10th St., both ninth grade pupils at Salem Junior High School, and Karen Waltz of RD 1, Deerfield, a pupil at Southeast High School.

The three students are now eligible to participate in the state Science Day Saturday at the Youth Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus.

Reynolds Cites 'Muzzling' Try Involves LBJ Aide In Baker Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man who injected President Johnson's name into the Senate investigation of Bobby Baker, claims a Johnson aide tried to quiet him and Baker advised him to go into hiding.

Reynolds said these alleged muzzling attempts were made when he began cooperating with Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., whose own probe of Baker touched off the inquiry by the Senate Rules Committee. Johnson then was vice president.

Reynolds' story as given by him on the interview program "From the People," taped for broadcast by Radio Press International.

"When it (cooperating with Williams) first started I received a call from Mr. George Reedy (now White House press secretary) and he contacted me in my downtown office in Washington and informed me that he had had the president (sic) in contact with him and that he possibly it would be better for me to refrain from making any statements at all. That he would release all information pertaining to the insurance on the previously Sen. Johnson."

As for Baker, Reynolds quoted the onetime Senate page boy who became secretary to the Senate Democrats and built a business fortune before resigning under a cloud last October as warning him: "You get out of town and stay out of town for a couple of weeks. He'll (Williams) get you and the rest of us into jail."

The White House declined comment on the Reynolds interview and efforts to reach Baker were unsuccessful.

Late Bulletin

NORWOOD, Mass. (AP) — A 63-year-old woman was found strangled with a nylon stocking in the bedroom of her home today, adding another to the list of 11 unsolved stranglings of women in eastern Massachusetts in less than two years.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Goldie Fine, whose husband, Hyman, operates a clothing dry cleaning establishment in nearby Canton.

Becomes Athletic Director

Trombitas Named By Leetonia Board

LEETONIA — George Trombitas, acting superintendent of Leetonia Exempted Village Schools, was named athletic director of all inter-scholastic sports when the Board of Education met in special session Sunday at Orchard Hill School. Trombitas previously held the position of faculty manager. His new post gives him more authority and enlarges his responsibilities.

In his duties, he will be responsible for scheduling games, collecting, accounting for and the expenditure of funds to operate the program; recommending changes in coaching assignments; adopting regulations and policies for the operation of the program, not conflicting with board policies; and reporting to the superintendent of schools, keeping him fully informed of all aspects of the athletic program.

Coaches and other personnel involved in the athletic program are directly responsible to the athletic director.

In other business, all teachers' contracts up for renewal were approved by the Leetonia board and coaching assignments were given as follows:

Carl Kokor, head football coach, Leonard Batcha and Dave Pavlansky, assistants, and John Gunyula, ninth grade; Batcha, head basketball coach and Pavlansky, assistant; Ko-

Schirra, Stafford 'Backup' Crew

Grissom, Young To Make Gemini Test

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young were selected today as the astronauts who will pilot the nation's first two-man space flight—a three-orbit Gemini mission late this year.

The back-up crew for the first manned flight of Project Gemini will be Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Capt. Thomas P. Stafford.

Gemini is the intermediate phase of the long-range training program that has an objective of placing Project Apollo astronauts on the moon within the decade.

Of the four men selected today at the Manned Spacecraft Center, the training base for astronauts, only Schirra has made an orbital flight.

Grissom made a suborbital flight of 142.1 miles downrange from Cape Kennedy Sept. 13, 1961, and Schirra followed with a six-orbit mission Oct. 3, 1962. Young and Stafford, former test pilots, became astronaut trainees Sept. 17, 1962.

Since the completion of the one-man Mercury flights last year, Grissom has held a primary assignment as coordinator of Gemini affairs with other members of the astronaut team that now totals 29 pilots.

Schirra, now 41, is the oldest of the original seven Mercury astronauts now that Lt. Col. John Glenn has resigned from the program. Glenn is 42.

Young has specialized on the design and development of environment control systems, survival gear, pressure suits, couches and other personal equipment. Stafford has specialized on communications, instrumentation and range integration.

34 GOP Convention Delegates Selected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tempo of delegate selection for the Republican National Convention is speeding up. Thirty-four were chosen over the weekend and at least 73 will be picked this week.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who now has 109 first-ballot votes in eight states, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine will test their popularity in Tuesday's Illinois presidential preference primary.

Their names are the only ones printed in the preference spot on the Republican ballots.

Results are not binding on delegates to the national convention. Forty-eight district delegates will be chosen Tuesday, with 10 at-large delegates to be picked in the Illinois Republican state convention next month.

Of the 78 persons running for the Illinois GOP delegate posts, 34 favor Goldwater, 3 are for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and one is for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. The rest told The Associated Press they were uncommitted or they made no replies.

Three states complete their selection of delegates to the Republican convention at state conclaves Saturday — Arizona, Kansas and Louisiana.

Goldwater is expected to win Arizona's 16 votes. He already has 16 Louisiana district delegates and the four at-large delegates to be named Saturday may be instructed to vote for him, too.

In Kansas, Gov. John Anderson Jr. has been battling for an uncommitted delegation. So far six district delegates are instructed or favorable to Goldwater, nine are uncommitted. Five more will be chosen Saturday to round out Kansas' 20-vote delegation.

On the Democratic side this week are a convention in North Dakota beginning today and the Illinois primary.

North Dakota has 15 votes at the Democratic convention. Illinois has 114, of whom 48 will be chosen in Tuesday's primary. Most are expected to support President Johnson.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

LISBON — Fred Lewis Butcher, 28, Chester, W. Va., was fined $150 and costs and was sentenced to three days in jail Sunday by Mayor Dean Stockman for driving while intoxicated. He was cited Sunday by Sgt. Kenneth McKenzie.

Forrest Singer, 19, Lisbon RD 2, forfeited a $15 bond Sunday when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of reckless operation. He was cited by Capt. John Varner Sunday at 5:17 p. m.

FIGHT GRASS FIRES

LISBON — Village firemen extinguished two grass fires Saturday afternoon.

At 1 they were called to the Douglass property on E. High St., and at 1:20 they were called to El Dorado Lake, west of Lisbon, where approximately 15 acres burned off before they were able to put out the fire.

Instruction To Precinct Workers Due

The County Election Board is preparing to mail detailed instructions to the 990 judges and clerks who will staff its 165 precincts for the primary elections May 5.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the three-page letter of instructions will be mailed to the polling place workers about Thursday, April 23.

The instructions will emphasize the need for strict compliance with the law in the voting procedure and a quick accurate count after the polls close in order that figures may be relayed to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, O'Hanlon said.

In making the count, precinct officials will be asked to tabulate returns in three sections making a report to the Election Board or a district collector on each set of totals.

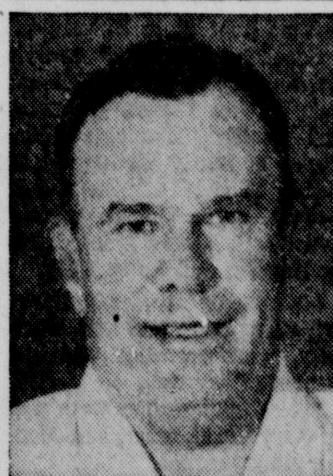

The first section of the count will cover the vote on a proposed state bond issue and the Republican and Democratic tickets from U. S. Senator through district congressman. The second section will cover GOP and Democratic candidates for county offices. In the third section the tabulation will be reported on the 7th District Court of Appeals Common Pleas Court, state central committee-men and committeewomen, and at-large and district delegates and alternates to national conventions.

The lone exception to the general instructions on the count will occur in the East Liverpool district, where the precincts will make a "flash" count on returns on Democratic and Republican races for U. S. Senate nominations as soon as the polls close.

The instructions will point out that a person who will be 21 on or before Nov. 3—the general election date—may vote in the primaries if he is qualified otherwise. The procedure is known as "voting on age." But persons who will be 21 after May 5 do not have a right to vote on a state county or local subdivision question or issue, the instructions will emphasize.

O'Hanlon said he will point out that law does not allow write-in votes for national convention delegates and alternates or for members of the state or county central committees. But write-in votes may be cast for state, district and county offices.

If a question or issue is submitted, all qualified electors, regardless of party affiliation, have a right to vote on the issue. A voter may obtain a ballot on a special issue, even though he declines to vote in a party primary, O'Hanlon pointed out.

Leetonia Firemen Answer Two Calls

By MRS. HOMER KRIDLER
(Telephone — 427-6248)

LEETONIA — Leetonia Volunteer Fire Department answered two calls over the weekend but no actual property loss was realized in either.

Firemen responded to an alarm for a grass fire at 4 p.m. Saturday on the north side of the railroad track in a field behind the National Rubber Machinery Company plant on Cherry Fork Ave.

Fire Chief Eldon Holt attributes the blaze to sparks from a passing train.

Only smoke damage resulted from a fire at 8:40 p.m. Sunday at the American Restaurant on Main St. The blaze started from an overheated motor on a fan.

COUNTY AND STATE Democratic primary candidates and members of the local Men's Democratic Club will be guests when the Leetonia-Washington Women's Democratic Club meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the OSI Hall on Main St.

Mrs. Raymond Longbottom, Mrs. Lloyd Culler and Mrs. Ruth Scullion will be in charge of refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

Boy Scout Troop 13 will meet at 7:30 tonight at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

LEETONIA PUBLIC Library is celebrating National Library Week through Saturday. Mrs. Dan Cullinan, librarian, announces that all fines on over - due books will be canceled during this time, regardless of how long ago the books were borrowed.

Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the church. This is a postponed meeting from last month.

Loyal Workers Class of the church will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Rance of 390 Columbia St.

There will be two sessions of Leadership Training School at the College of Wooster July 12-18 and July 19-25. Two $50 scholarships are available for persons interested. The training sessions are sponsored by the Presbyterian Church.

The Granges

West Point Meets

The Beaver Local School District five-mill operating levy to be voted on at the May 5 primaries was the program subject of West Point Grange Friday evening at the grange hall.

Dr. George Van Horne, executive head of the Beaver Local School District, presented "facts and figures" to explain the need for the levy. Joining him in the discussion were Mrs. Joseph Mellon, chairman of the Citizens Committee of the Beaver Local School District; Jack Poznel, Ralph Cusick, and the Rev. Frank Hare, all members of the committee; Paul Dailey, Arnold Green and William Smith, members of the Beaver Local School Board.

A brief description of the proposed hospital wing at the County Home was given by County Commissioner Galen Greenisen. Mrs. Lloyd Smith, lecturer, was in charge of the program.

At the business meeting in charge of Ralph Cusick, master, members approved donations to the county juvenile degree team, the state youth grange and the county 4-H group.

Inspection of West Point Grange will be held April 24. Each family is requested to bring something for the refreshments.

Tuesday at 10 a.m. will be a sewing day for the grange.

The juvenile grange degree team will practice Sunday at 2:30.

Chubby Checker Wed To Ex-'Miss World'

PENNSAUKEN, N.J. (AP)—Negro singer Chubby Checker and Catherine Lodgers, a white Dutch model who once was Miss World, were married Sunday in Temple Lutheran Church at Pennsauken, N.J.

Both Checker, whose real name is Ernest Evans, and his bride are 22. Neither has been married before.

The Rev. George L. Garver, the white minister who performed the ceremony, said he received a threatening telephone call before the service, but there were no incidents.

LEGAL NOTICE

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 52)
JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio to authorize the issuance of bonds or other obligations up to five hundred million dollars, the proceeds thereof to be used to provide adequate highways in Ohio.

Whereas, in order to continue the economic development of this state it is necessary to advance the completion of the major highway system without increasing the burden on the taxpayers of the state, and Whereas, such completion can be financed from revenues at present rates and without impairing other highway programs.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, Three-fifths of the members elected to each house thereof concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Ohio, in the manner prescribed by law, at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May, 1964, a proposition to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio by adding thereto a new section as follows:

ARTICLE VIII
Section 26. The state may contract debts not exceeding five hundred million dollars for the purpose of providing moneys for acquisition of rights-of-way and for construction and reconstruction of highways on the state highway system and urban extensions thereof. The principal amount of any part of such debt at any time contracted shall be paid at such time or times and in such amounts as shall be fixed by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund provided that the entire debt shall be discharged not later than the year 1989. The bonds or other obligations evidencing the debt authorized by this section shall bear interest and shall be sold upon such terms as may be prescribed by law. Both the principal of such debt and the interest thereon shall be exempt from taxation within this state. Moneys raised under the authority of this section shall be expended only to provide adequate highways, including engineering and the acquisition of rights-of-way and including participation therein with the federal government, municipal corporations, counties and other legally authorized participants. All construction shall be done by contract as shall be provided by law. No part of such proceeds shall be appropriated except to meet the requirements of programs or schedules or acquisition of rights-of-way, highway construction and reconstruction which the governor, or other highway authority designated by law, with the concurrence of the governor, shall submit to the general assembly before such appropriations are made. Such appropriations shall be made on a dollar-for-dollar basis. The state shall be obligated by bonds or other obligations issued by the State of Ohio as provided by law. The faith and credit of the state are hereby pledged for the payment thereof and the interest thereon. Such bonds or other obligations shall be paid from moneys derived from fees, excises, or license taxes, levied by the State of Ohio, relating to registration, operation, or use of vehicles on public highways, or to fuels used for propelling such vehicles, and a sufficient amount thereof, after provision for the amounts required by Article VIII, Section 26 of the Constitution of the State of Ohio for obligations issued pursuant to that section, is hereby appropriated in each year for the purpose of paying the interest on the outstanding debt and the principal of such debt contracted under authority of this section becoming due in that year, without other appropriations, but according to regulations to be established by law. Provision may be made by law for the transfer and the use of any amount of such moneys in excess of that required in any year, for the payment of interest on and the principal of such debt contracted under authority of this section and said section 26.

Be it further resolved, That at the election herein designated for submission of this amendment to the electors of the State of Ohio, the same shall be placed on the official ballot in the manner prescribed by law and shall be designated as follows:

And That's Inflation

What are the real dangers of inflation to our economic welfare?

No one seems to know for sure. There are as many theories concerning its ultimate impact as there are cents in a dollar.

We already have seen the effects of inflation on the value of the dollar, which has declined in purchasing power by more than 50 per cent.

Because the United States has never had runaway inflation, there are those in high places who do not view it as an impending threat.

BUT CREEPING INFLATION, which we have experienced to an alarming degree since the end of World War II, can be just as perilous, if somewhat less shocking.

High government officials are saying inflation is unlikely because they expect to curb it.

But the difference in terms and measurement of what constitutes inflation is the factor what to us appears to be the most menacing.

Government authorities expect a general price rise this year of 2 per cent, and that much or more next year. But this is not inflation, they say. It's only what you'd expect when business gets going full steam ahead. They insist runaway inflation is something well in excess of 2 per cent, and it is this they will take measures to curb.

BUT EVEN if we avoid runaway inflation, 2 per cent a year adds up to a rise of 20 per cent in 40 years. When one is planning ahead, which is a normal procedure in a free economy, you must know something about the price tag of what you are planning.

The cumulative effect of such a trend is the built-in danger that confronts every one of us in his lifetime and especially those who must live on a fixed income.

If price and wage guidelines are to mean anything at all, they must bear a close relationship to productivity. Otherwise, the dollar's purchasing power will decline and this, no matter how you slice it, is inflation.

Library Facilities

Have you enjoyed a good book lately? Now, during National Library Week, is a good time to take advantage of the many volumes on the shelves of the Salem Public Library. Whether it be fiction or non-fiction, a well-chosen book can both entertain and increase your knowledge.

The board of trustees of the Salem Public Library is to be complimented for its dedicated service and for its continuing program to improve the services and facilities of the institution. It is only because of limited funds, those allocated by the county through the collection of intangible taxes, that the board is able to maintain its volume level of some 40,000 books. It would require a special bond issue or a large bequest to permit an expansion of the library facilities that some citizens recommend.

Meanwhile, Salem is fortunate to have the good library it has, but more persons ought to take advantage of it.

Auto windshield wipers help you to see where you're going, especially if there's a traffic violation ticket tucked under them.

frantic effort to stave off depreciation. Whatever element of neatness resides in the car-washing ritual is minor. It is there but not compelling. The motive is veneration and devotion—a sublimated form of foot-kissing and forehead-bumping.

TO THOSE who would not have worshipped a golden calf and therefore cannot prostrate themselves before a mortgaged go-devil, the ritual is as pagan as goat-sticking, cannibalism and fire-walking.

They—we—regard the half-drowned stylites, postulants and manipulators of the sponge, self-polishing wax and spray that makes old heaps smell like new as demoted followers of false gods.

We respect their right to do as they please, but we scud past them with our lips fixed in a sneer of disbelief. We tell ourselves the first tingling warmth of a springtime sun warrants no such wild surges of pagan instinct to lay treasures at the feet of the god; that mankind surely has outgrown such childlike trust.

We disdain even to submit our begrimed steeds to commercial car laundries, telling ourselves the next hard rain will take care of the job naturally.

Then, someday, when no one is looking we, too, lay in a supply of unguents and sprays and do what we can to appease the twin evils of accelerated depreciation and tawdry public image. The ritual claims us in the end.

When the crisis did arise in Korea in 1951, American forces were held back from winning the victory because our European allies — Great Britain and France — did not wish to take the risk involved in pushing the war vigorously against the Red Chinese.

Gen. MacArthur's disappointment that he was not permitted to carry out his plan to win the war was the direct outgrowth of a situation on which, while in the Far East, he was not adequately informed. It was a contest going on behind the scenes in and around the United Nations itself.

THE WEAKNESS in trying to adjust military facts to diplomatic theories continues to exist today.

The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff here had unanimously supported Gen. MacArthur's recommendation that the Chinese air bases in Manchuria, north of the Yalu River, should be bombed.

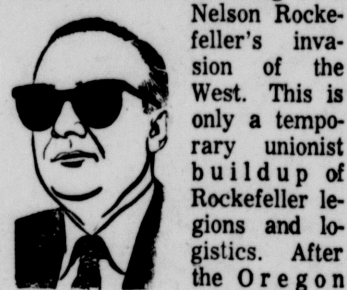

"Man Does Not Live By Goulash Alone"

Labor 'Guns' for Goldwater

By VICTOR RIESEL

In Omaha the other day I learned that liberal labor leaders "eager to belt down Barry Goldwater" are bolstering Gov.

Victor Riesel

Nelson Rockefeller's invasion of the West. This is only a temporary unionist buildup of Rockefeller legions and logistics. After the Oregon and California primaries, the labor forces will swing back to President Lyndon Johnson's camp. But now the main target is the Arizona senator's drive for the nomination.

This transitory truce is providing the Rockefeller strategists with exactly the alliance they need. In some cities aid is actually coming from the AFL-CIO's official political machine — the Committee on Political Education (COPE).

This is especially true in Oregon where the big count will be held on May 15.

The drive is developing more slowly and quietly in California.

In both states labor officials are supplying money, manpower, car pools, volunteers for special assignments and political guides through the maze of West Coast politics unfamiliar to Rockefeller's national campaign headquarters in New York City.

THE NERVE CENTER for this labor operation is on the 17th floor of the Hotel Roosevelt in New York City, where the National Labor for Rockefeller Committee has developed one of the smoothest operations since the dues stamp was invented.

Rockefeller's national labor headquarters, guided by the quiet genius of Victor Borella (who in calmer days is executive vice president of Rockefeller Center) has compiled the most complete list of union locals in the U.S.

There is nothing like it in the land, for it is annotated with the times and places of all membership meetings, officers' gatherings, conferences and conventions. Of course, the list includes those which are scheduled in Oregon and California.

The objective of Rockefeller's almost unknown labor headquarters is to get as much literature and as many film presentations before the members of as many West Coast unions as possible.

Some of these films are motion pictures, some are slides and some are color drawings of simulated debates between Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Goldwater.

They were used in union halls throughout New Hampshire during the primary campaign there. Now the equipment is being moved to the coast.

WESTERN LABOR men have begun pressuring their local colleagues into accepting Rockefeller offers to show the films. Volunteer members of the Stage Hands Union (IATSE) are being supplied with film projectors. Big turnouts are encouraged.

This was the technique used in New Hampshire where the AFL-CIO delivered thousands of votes to the New York governor.

In New Hampshire, however, there was much dependence on the Teamsters' political machinery. It did not deliver — not even in the areas where it had some concentrated strength. So now little aid is being sought from the West Coast Teamsters, according to sources here.

Because Gov. Rockefeller is most concerned over the "sudden death" June 2 primary in California, his national labor office is preparing its heaviest concentration on that state. The labor committee's national chairman is AFL-CIO vice president, Lee Minton, who will leave shortly for a series of organizing conferences and speeches throughout California. He'll open this campaign for labor votes for Rockefeller "against Goldwater" in three weeks with a big reception in San Francisco.

THIS WILL kick off the drive to influence the labor concentrations in and around the big bay area.

Reports indicate that the committee expects former U.S. secretary of labor, James Mitchell, to be its big gun in California. Mitchell, who served under President Eisenhower for some seven years, now is an executive of the Crown - Zellerbach Co. in San Francisco. In the past he worked closely with Richard Nixon.

Rockefeller expects to have other influential men pushing for him inside labor. One is seafaring Morris Weisberger, secretary - treasurer of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific. Another is William Nelligan, a member of the Communications Workers of America, who is past president of the California Republican Assembly. There also is John Stender, an international vice president of the Boilermakers' Union.

Furthermore, during the building and construction trades legislative conference in Washington, which drew some 4,000 delegates in mid-March, a representative of Gov. Rockefeller was promised strong but quiet support from California Construction Workers.

NONE OF THIS ruffles Sen. Goldwater. He is determined not to make any special pitch for labor votes. He could, if he wished, talk publicly of the help he gave some unions during the drafting of national legislation. Their leaders came to him and he agreed that the legislation in question was badly drawn and unfair.

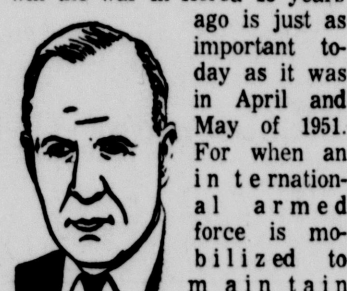

Rather than attempt to neutralize national labor opposition he will continue to tell rank and file workers that what they need to fear is the growing intervention of the government in labor-management affairs. His theory is that this intervention will weaken all sides and eventually put the government in control of wages, prices, types of production and even location of plants. This will mean socialism, he is saying.

Clearly, the California primaries will have a double significance. Not only will it make or break one of the contenders, it will also reveal whether Democratic labor leaders can actually deliver votes once they begin operating on a major Republican front.

Lesson for Today

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The controversy again emerging over the obstacles faced by Gen. MacArthur in trying to win the war in Korea 13 years ago is just as important today as it was in April and May of 1951.

David Lawrence

For when an international armed force is mobilized to maintain peace anywhere in the world, the United Nations appears to have no effective system that will enable its agent — the armed forces of the United States in the case of Korea — to win the victory by using the normal methods of military strategy. As a consequence, American lives were sacrificed in Korea, and Red China was not punished for its aggression.

When the crisis did arise in Korea in 1951, American forces were held back from winning the victory because our European allies — Great Britain and France — did not wish to take the risk involved in pushing the war vigorously against the Red Chinese.

Gen. MacArthur's disappointment that he was not permitted to carry out his plan to win the war was the direct outgrowth of a situation on which, while in the Far East, he was not adequately informed. It was a contest going on behind the scenes in and around the United Nations itself.

THE WEAKNESS in trying to adjust military facts to diplomatic theories continues to exist today.

The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff here had unanimously supported Gen. MacArthur's recommendation that the Chinese air bases in Manchuria, north of the Yalu River, should be bombed.

In fact, the joint chiefs, 90 days before Gen. MacArthur was relieved of his command in Korea, explicitly approved the entire military plan he espoused — namely, to use the Chinese Nationalist troops and some American divisions to impose a military and economic blockade against the common enemy and to permit air reconnaissance over Manchuria and China.

As for an economic boycott—a problem somewhat similar to the one that arose recently in the Cuban situation — it so happens that countries which were members of the Security Council itself engaged in trading with the enemy during the Korean War.

It was disclosed early in 1951 that 120,000 tons of rubber had been sent to the Communists through the British port of Hong Kong after the war began in June 1950 — four times what was shipped in 1949 through British sources.

Oil, steel, aluminum, electrical equipment, copper wire and other strategic materials also were being shipped to the Chinese Communists.

WHEN GEN. MACARTHUR testified before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees on May 4, 1951, he made this significant statement:

"One of the great weaknesses of the United Nations effort as a United Nations effort there is that it was not well balanced. Almost the entire burden of blood and effort and money is confined to two countries—the native country of the Koreans, and ourselves. . . .

"The relativity of authority in making international decisions should be based in some degree upon the responsibilities of the agents that carry it out. If one nation carries 90 per cent of the effort, it's quite inappropriate that nations that carry only a small fraction of the efforts and the responsibility should exercise undue authority upon the decisions that are made."

The most sensational proof of how the United States government was forced to accede to the Allied wishes is also to be found in the testimony before the Senate committees which revealed that the United States Department of State on March 20, 1951, had requested Gen. MacArthur to agree to deploy his troops in such a way as to avoid "any advance with major forces north of the 38th Parallel."

He was instructed to "permit sufficient freedom of action for the next few weeks to provide security for U.N. forces and maintain contact with enemy," as to give time "to determine diplomatic reactions and permit new negotiations that may develop."

This was the beginning of the appeasement and compromise in Korea — the acceptance of an armistice that has to this day not been followed up by the signing of any peace treaty.

THE SOCIALIST Labor government was in power in Great Britain at the time when the trading with the enemy of the U.N. was going on. In the British Parliament, the "left wing" of the Labor party even introduced a motion in the House of Commons calling for an expression of "no confidence" in Gen. MacArthur.

Several days before Gen. MacArthur was relieved of his command, this correspondent wrote in a dispatch that President Truman was being urged to reprimand the general and that demands for this action were coming from London particularly.

Gen. MacArthur had publicly appealed to the United Nations for military help. He had asked for reinforcements again and again, to no avail. He sought the right to bombard the Communist bases from which the Chinese were coming to attack his forces, but the British publicly denounced him — and kept on trading with the enemy.

A general election is to be held in Great Britain this autumn, and undoubtedly the foreign policy of the British Labor party, as revealed in the campaign, will be watched with much concern on this side of the Atlantic in view of the record made by the laborites in the Korean war.

Instruments found in Inca and Babylonian ruins indicate that man learned long ago that heat is produced when the sun's rays are absorbed by a blackened surface. First solar steam generators using movable mirrors were built during the 19th century.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter, Sarah, is 27 years old. She has a good job as secretary to an executive in a shoe factory.

For the last four years she has been going with a fellow who works there as a foreman. I will call him Ralph, although that is not his name. In fact he doesn't work at the factory either. I just put that in to disguise him in case this letter shows up in the paper.

Ralph lives in a rooming house. He comes here for dinner three nights a week and uses our bathtub. He says it is almost impossible to get into the bathroom at the rooming house. When he does get in, there is no hot water.

We don't mind except he never cleans the tub after he uses it. Once my wife placed a can of scouring powder right in the middle of the tub but he didn't take the hint.

We wouldn't care if we were sure Ralph was going to marry our Sarah but he hasn't proposed to her even though he never dates anyone else. What do you think? — WEDDING BELLS WANTED.

Dear Bells: I'm afraid the only ring Sarah ever will see is the one Ralph leaves around the tub.

A fellow doesn't go steady with a girl four years and not declare his honorable intentions — if he has any. Sarah should have a frank talk with Ralph regarding the future. If he isn't interested in marriage she should — if you will excuse the expression — pull the plug on him.

Imperfect Parents

Dear Ann: We are ready to admit we are failures. Strange, too, because we were going to be perfect parents. It should have been easy. Our own wants are few and we were willing to devote ourselves totally to our children.

We are an average family, with an average income. We live in an average house and drive an average car. We taught our children to swim, fish, hunt, bowl, golf, skate and dance. We've taken them picnicking, camping, on sight-seeing trips and given them everything they need.

Yet, ever since they learned to talk all we have heard is, "But all the neighbor kids have nicer bikes, better guns, more spending money. . . ."

Now it's, "But all the other kids can go steady. I'm always the first one to leave a party. Everyone has more fun than I do."

You might say they are just spoiled but how did they get that way? We take them to church regularly, insist on week nights for study and set their allowances at a reasonable minimum.

They can have the car occasionally but we always know where they are and with whom. Yet they seem discontented, misunderstood and dissatisfied with their parents. Why?—THE FAILURES.

Dear Friends: I refuse to call you failure because I don't believe you have failed. There is no such animal as a perfect parent because there are no perfect people.

You have invested a great deal of time and energy in your children and, believe me, it will pay off handsomely in the long run.

Your children may seem to you to be discontented and misadjusted but I don't know it. They may gripe, buck for more freedom or rebel against authority. But so what? Ever kid tests. Every kid feels for soft spots. Every kid is for position.

At times a parent feels they are failures but your letter contains no such failure — only a report of their gripes.

You sound as if you are unquestionably in control. And when parents are in control the children feel secure. They know their parents love them enough to keep an eye on them and to insist on decent standards of conduct.

Deaths and Funerals

Miss Mary Jacobs

Miss Mary Jacobs of 594 E. 3rd St. died of a cerebral hemorrhage Sunday at 2:15 p.m. in the Central Clinic.

Born in Salem, the daughter of F. M. and Hattie Skinner Jacobs, she lived here all her life. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church and the Friendship Sunday School Class, of which she was teacher for several years. A brother, H. N. Jacobs, preceded her in death recently.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with Dr. J. Paul Graham officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

There will be no calling hours.

Yugoslavia, Hungary Hit By Quake

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, (AP)—An earthquake struck a wide region of northern Yugoslavia and part of southern Hungary today, killing at least one and injuring more than 100 persons. Panic spread in the two neighboring countries and damage appeared widespread.

Downtown buildings swayed and some cracked in downtown Belgrade, where thousands fled into the streets on a warm, sunny morning. Schools and many factories and offices closed. The Budapest radio said the Hungarian capital also was shaken.

The first death was reported near the epicenter of the quake about 125 miles west of Belgrade. A 13-year-old girl was killed when a staircase collapsed at a school at Djakovo.

Reports reaching Belgrade said more than 100 persons were injured in the quake area, stretching westward from Belgrade and north to the Hungarian border. Budapest radio reported panic in southern Hungary but made no mention of casualties.

Alaska Jolted by Sharp After-Shock

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Quake-torn south-central Alaska coastal communities, jolted by another sharp after-shock Sunday, battled floods of sea water from high spring tides today.

The sea, pulled into high tides about this time each year by the combined attraction of the moon and sun, has been moving up into areas which sank in the disastrous earthquake of March 27.

The highest for April are expected today and Tuesday, and owners of business buildings in the sunken areas have been trying to protect them by jacking them up or building dikes around them.

Flooding is the big problem now. Sunday's after-shock didn't make much impression on the residents of this shaken state. The ground rocked, and dishes and windows rattled, but no one was reported hurt. The casualty list of the big quake still stands at 114 dead or missing and the damage is estimated at $750 million.

Land in places along the rim of the Gulf of Alaska, on the Kenai Peninsula and on Kodiak Island is believed to have sunk from three to six feet in places.

Mrs. Aurell Pasco

LISBON — Mrs. Elizabeth Pasco, 77, of 113 S. Beaver St. died Sunday at 11:15 a.m. at her home after an illness of four years.

Born Nov. 20, 1886, in Austria, Hungary, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Prudner, she lived in this area for 55 years.

Survivors include her husband, Aurell L. Pasco, whom she married Dec. 25, 1908; three daughters, Miss Marie Pasco of the home, Mrs. Wilhelmina Berry of Salem and Mrs. Anne Bubak of Youngstown; two sons, Albert and Louis Pasco of Lisbon; 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Henry Funeral Home by the Rev. Trix Demian, of St. George Orthodox Church of Canton. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

There will be no calling hours.

Mrs. Fred Culler

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Mary Irene Culler, 69, of RD 1, Canfield Rd., died of a heart ailment at 1:35 p.m. Sunday at Salem City Hospital.

Born Jan. 19, 1895, in Salem, she was the daughter of Charles E. and Effie Wharton Sweeney. On July 25, 1955, at Norfolk, Va., she married Fred J. Culler, who survives.

A graduate of Salem High College, she was a member of Salem Christian Church and the Order of Eastern Star of Danville, Ill.

Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Nora Deafenbaugh of Norfolk, Va.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Woods Funeral Home in Leetonia, with Rev. Church of the Brethren officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery in Salem.

Friends may call Tuesday evening at the funeral home.

Donald C. Hoover

COLUMBIANA — Donald C. Hoover, 45, of County Line Rd. died of lymphoma at 8:20 a.m. Sunday at North Side Hospital in Youngstown following an illness of five months. He had been a patient at the hospital for five and one-half weeks.

Born Oct. 12, 1918, in Indianapolis, Ind., he was the son of Howard M. and Edith Atwell Hoover. In 1953, with Sheldon Frankent, he organized the Fairfield Machine Co. on Fairfield Rd. Before that time, he had worked as a machinist in several area machine shops.

A life resident of the area and a 1936 graduate of Columbiana High School, he was a member of the Grace United Church of Christ and a member of the Columbiana Planning Commission for the past year.

He served for four and one-half years during World War II with the 495th Bomber Squadron in the European Theater.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ann Moore, whom he married Sept. 22, 1946; his father of Columbiana; two sons, William and Thomas, both at home; two sisters, Mrs. Charles Rohrer of Columbiana and Mrs. Frank Papan of Berkeley, Calif. and two brothers, Vernon of Burton and Lee of RD 5, Salem.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Seederly-Belhart Funeral Home in Columbiana, with Rev. Harold Thiedt of Grace United Church officiating. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call Tuesday evening at the funeral home.

IN MAYOR'S COURT

Paul H. Funk, 19, of RD 1, Salem, was fined $25 and costs when he appeared before Mayor Dean Cranmer Sunday on charges of speeding.

Funk was cited Saturday at 12:45 p.m. on E. 6th St.

In another case, Dudley P. Lee, 57, of North Canton was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for driving while under the influence of alcohol. The jail sentence was suspended on the condition he report to the Alcoholics Hospital in Youngstown.

Lee was arrested last Thursday on W. Pershing St.

Thousands View Crypt of MacArthur

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Showery April skies were expected to dampen only slightly today the tempo of posthumous tribute to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

Officials of the MacArthur Memorial Museum said they anticipated that further thousands would line the sidewalk outside the imposing, columned building while awaiting their turn to view the sunken crypt where the general was interred last Saturday.

The memorial held its doors open until 9 p.m. Sunday—three hours beyond the normal closing time—to accommodate the more than 6,000 persons who came to pay their last respects.

It was scheduled to be open to the public today from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., but there was a chance these hours would be extended again by heavy attendance.

More than 61,000 persons viewed the body of the general in Norfolk at the end of a week of extraordinary tribute to the man who led American soldiers into battle in three major wars. His burial here, a Navy town in which he never lived, was his request because it was the scene of his mother's birth and childhood.

The last rites Saturday under brilliant skies were attended by more than 400 civilian and military dignitaries, relatives, old comrades-in-arms and representatives of 10 foreign governments.

They began with the removal of the plain military casket bearing the remains of the 84-year-old general from the rotunda of the memorial, a reconstructed courthouse, to St. Paul's Episcopal Church, two blocks away.

Mrs. MacArthur and her son Arthur, 26, walked behind the caisson en route to the church and on the return to the memorial.

Shortly after the memorial opened a 4-year-old girl, Vivian Bayoreta, received permission to place a wreath by the crypt. She was aided by her father, Mr. Sgt. Solomon H. Bayoreta, who was awarded the Silver Star for protecting MacArthur from a bomb burst on Corregidor in December 1941.

Bayoreta said he traveled to Norfolk from Syracuse, N.Y., and waited three days to place the wreath in the rotunda. He vowed he would return each year to "pay my respects to the general."

CD Leaders to Hold Seminar Thursday

More than 200 county, municipal and township officials are expected to attend a seminar conducted by the Engineering Experiment Station of Ohio State University, in cooperation with the Office of Civil Defense, the Ohio Civil Defense and the Youngstown-Mahoning County Office of Civil Defense, Thursday, at the Voyager Motor Inn in Youngstown.

Civil Defense Director Bud J. Fares said the objective is to bring together the various officials for the discussion of the current Civil Defense programs, policies, and objectives, and for development of a better understanding of the responsibilities, required actions and procedures of such officials in order to increase their abilities for coping with major emergencies.

APPLICATIONS ISSUED

Ninety-four applications for civilian absentee and disabled voters ballots were issued in the first week the applications could be accepted, the County Election Board said today.

The board said it has issued 92 ballots for servicemen and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States.

The civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots can be issued until April 30 at 4 p.m. and must be in the board's hands by noon May 1 to be counted at the polls on May 5.

Firemen Fight 8 Weekend Blazes

City firemen extinguished six grass fires, a car fire and aided in fighting a house blaze during the past weekend and early today.

Four grass fires were extinguished Saturday: at 12:09 p.m. at 973 W. Pershing St.; at 12:35 p.m. at 1544 E. 3rd St.; at 12:55 p.m. at 1414 N. Ellsworth Ave., and at 3:18 p.m. at 1004 S. Lincoln Ave.

A grass blaze was put out at 3:36 p.m. Sunday at the Lonnie Johnson residence on Pine Lake Rd. and firemen were called out at 4:02 a.m. today to extinguish another at the west end of W. Wilson St.

At 7:42 p.m. Saturday a car owned by Dave Goodman of Berlin Center backfired through the carburetor and did minor damage to the motor and the hood. The car was parked at 243 W. 2nd St. when the blaze broke out.

City firemen helped the Greenford and Damascus fire departments fight a blaze Sunday at 10:52 a.m. which destroyed the Charles Devine home on the Sebring-Pine Lake Rd.

It would be an "utmost exercise in futility" to try to predict an outcome, Reedy said Sunday. He did venture the view that the mediators obviously must have felt some optimism when they decided to bring the opposing parties into the same conference room.

The mediators had been shuttling from one side to the other before bringing the rail executives and brotherhood chiefs face to face Sunday afternoon. The session continued into the night.

This last-ditch round of negotiation apparently is the only possible source of solution to the tangled work rules dispute. Johnson has exhausted all presidential actions provided by existing legislation and Congress is reluctant to get entangled in the subject again.

At his news conference Saturday, the President said he is not considering any new legislation that would take the dispute out of the hands of the carriers and the unions.

New Wheat, Cotton Programs Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—New wheat and cotton stabilization programs, retaining planting allotments established earlier for 1964 crops, have been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Freeman announced the provisions of the programs, which affect growers, producers and exporters, shortly after President Johnson signed the cotton-wheat bill Saturday.

The legislation will provide about $1 billion in payments to wheat and cotton farmers and subsidies to domestic cotton mills.

The wheat program, which includes a national planting allotment of 49.5 million acres, divides growers into two groups—those who plant and harvest within allotments and those who don't.

Farmers who cooperate with the allotments will be eligible for:

1. Price supports at the national average of $1.30 a bushel.
2. Government-issued marketing certificates on 90 per cent of the normal wheat yield on their allotments.
3. For the remaining 10 per cent of their normal yield, they will get whatever price the market offers.
4. In addition, they will be eligible for payments on wheat land diverted under the wheat allotment program. The diversion payments will be 20 per cent of the county's wheat support rate multiplied by the normal yield of the diverted acres. Farmers will be permitted to divert up to 20 per cent of their allotment.

Cooperating farmers will not be allowed to exceed acreage allotments assigned them on other crops grown on the farms, nor will they be permitted to exceed the wheat allotment on any other farm in which they may have diverted from wheat under their allotments to a conserving use—not another cash crop.

In order to benefit from the certificate and diversion payment programs, growers must sign up between May 1 and May 15.

Dangerous Road Intersections In Mahoning Listed

Four crossroads in Mahoning County are traffic hot spots... good places for safety-conscious motorists to keep their eyes peeled for.

While none of them are as bad as the first ranking intersection of U.S. Route 224 and State Route 8-91 east of Akron, they were high enough in accident frequency in 1963 to be listed by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety to make motorists wary of these sections.

Listed 28th in the state is the junction of Route 224 and Glenwood Rd., east of Canfield. Other bad Mahoning crossroads are Route 224 and State Route 7 west of Poland (38th); Route 7 and Indianola Rd., south of Youngstown; and Route 224 at State Route 625, also east of Canfield.

Salem Man Hurt In Alliance Collision

Clifford Anderson, 51, of 534 N. Lincoln Ave. was treated at Alliance City Hospital for whiplash of the neck and released after his car was struck from behind Sunday at 3 p.m. in the 100-block of W. State St. in Alliance.

Alliance police said Anderson was heading east on Route 62 when his auto was struck in the rear by a car operated by Phil M. Florea, 17, of 1890 Western Ave., Alliance. Florea was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Lisbon Ruritan Club Will Hear Speaker

LISBON — Stewart Dunn, general manager of the Lisbon Spring and Wire Co., will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Lisbon Ruritan Club Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the First Christian Church.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Implanting of Teeth Possible

Dr. Brandstadt

At a dinner party this spring, an attractive young mother who sat next to me told me she spent a frightful day searching the school yard for her son's two front teeth. The principal had called during morning recess and asked her to come at once; her son had been hit in the mouth with a baseball bat and his two front teeth had been knocked out.

Mother rushed the boy to the dentist who took one look and asked where the teeth were. He said that if he had them and they were in good condition, they could be put back into their sockets, attached by wires to neighboring teeth and possibly saved for many years. Unfortunately the teeth were not found.

It reminded me of a similar incident that occurred many years ago. Dr. Robert Seabury, the physician attending the players of the Yale-California ice hockey game at the arena in New Haven, called a local dentist and asked if he could take care of the California goaltender who had his two front teeth knocked out by a hockey puck. The dentist asked if he had the teeth. The game was stopped and both teams searched the ice until they were found.

THE DENTIST replanted or implanted the teeth. They were attached with wires and the patient was given a large dose of penicillin which was to be repeated for some days.

The California team had to leave for home next day but the dentist heard some months later that the teeth were still in place.

There is an interesting sequel to this story. A few months ago a California boy attending The Choate School called this dentist and asked if he could have a tooth crowned. He said a family friend recommended him. The friend was the hockey player whose teeth the dentist saved many years before.

Implanting teeth is not frequently done and the technique is not quite as simple as described above. But it is a well known procedure and the results can be truly remarkable.

Ellsworth

Ellsworth Extension Club held its monthly meeting in the grange hall Tuesday with 40 present at the dinner.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Anna Coman presided.

Mrs. Albert Conrad reported on the county meeting she had attended on "The Uses of Cheese" and Mrs. Lloyd Hesel and Mrs. Truman Kirkwood gave a demonstration on "Desserts with Design". These women who had attended the county food meetings served cheese casseroles and "Angel Torte" at the noon meal.

At the meeting to be held May 5, there will be a plant and bulb exchange.

Officers and teachers of the United Presbyterian Church School have planned a victory dinner to be held in the Ellsworth Elementary School on the evening of April 17, celebrating the attendance contest held during the first three months of 1964.

This will be a covered dish dinner with the school furnishing rolls and coffee. Entertainment will be provided.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, April 13, the 104th day of 1964. There are 262 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1830, President Andrew Jackson offered a toast that was to live in history. A South Carolina states right group had planned a dinner ostensibly to honor Thomas Jefferson, but really to embarrass Jackson. But "Old Hickory" was ready for the occasion with his toast, "Our Federal Union It must be preserved."

On this date: In 1743, President Thomas Jefferson, was born in Albemarle County, Va.

Minard's, Salem Faculty Cop Little City Titles

Ravenna Unit Retains Crown

Local Teachers Nip West Branch 71-67

After blowing a 15-point lead in the second quarter, defending champion Ravenna Minard's Sporting Goods rallied in the last half to knock off Youngstown Menaldi Jewelers 91-85 for the 29th annual "Little City" title at the Salem Senior High gym Saturday night.

Salem teachers edged West Branch 71-67 for the faculty bracket crown, and in the consolation tilt, Cleveland Blepp-Coombs trimmed Farrell H and S 85-75.

Trophies were given to the first four teams to finish in the event, plus individual awards to each member of the top two teams in the finals.

Selected to the honorary "all tourney team" were Bill Turner, Bob Green and Charlie Boy and Harold Davis of Menaldi's, Jerry McGinty and Ron Boswell of Blepp-Coombs, Dennis Thompson of Farrell, Ed Tucker of Cleveland OIBC, and Brian Generalovich of Miner's Tavern. Each player was presented with a trophy.

Green was picked the most valuable player of the tourney. Joe Perella walked off with the best foul shooting honors; Milt Pitts of Mansfield, high point single game; Boswell, Greene and Davis, high point tourney; Turner, best rebounder; and Roy Winston, sportsmanship.

DOWN 35-20 EARLY IN the second session, Menaldi's came on strong to take a 48-6 margin at intermission. The champs held a 26-18 lead at the end of the initial period, and were ahead 70-69 at the end of the third session. There was no tourney held in Salem last year. Minard's took the title at the Memorial Building in 1962.

Ravenna got balanced scoring from Charlie Boykin with 19 points, Greene, 18; Dick Dennis, 16; Ed Wilson, 14; and Turner, 11.

Probably the big difference was Minard's stronger bench strength, and in the fourth frame Herb Lake, Youngstown's tallest player, fouled out.

Larry Seneta led Menaldi's with 29 markers. Davis chipped in with 23, Lake chalked up 15 and Jim Timmerman netted 12.

BLEPP-COOMBS HAD too much class for Farrell and led all the way. The winners took a 24-15 lead in the first frame, held a 39-30 margin at halftime and a 63-49 spread at the end of the third stanza.

Tom Meyer sparked Blepp-Coombs with 20 points. Jerry McGinty came in with 19, Tom Gacey, 18; Vern Witte, 12; and Ed Ferguson led Farrell with 22 markers. Dennis Thompson collected 21, Winston, 11; and Charles Mitchell, 10.

IN THE FACULTY CONTEST, Salem took a 19-8 lead in the initial period, held a 31-27 margin at intermission, and a 51-47 spread at the end of the third stanza.

Jim "Moe" Meissner, former Salem star competing with West Branch, took scoring honors with 15 baskets for 30 points. Reimann canned 17 and Brook netted 12.

Jack Alexander, another former Salem athlete, led the local faculty unit with 23 markers. Bob Carbaugh finished with 22 markers, and Tom Cope chalked up 14.

Linta Sets Pole Vault Mark, Clears 14 Feet

Akron South Garner 33rd Mansfield Relays Championship With 18 Points

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Akron South came away with the 33rd Mansfield Relays championship Saturday as more than 2,000 athletes competed in the largest scholastic track meet in the nation.

The Cavaliers, scoring only 18 points, became the first Rubber City team ever to capture the schoolboy classic as they nosed out the host team, Mansfield Malabar, by one point.

The winning score was the lowest in the meet's history. Taking advantage of the new Malabar asphalt rubber track and perfect weather conditions, the mammoth field of 2,271 athletes from 199 schools shattered eight records in 18 events.

The big one went to John Linta of Malabar as he became the first Ohio high school athlete ever to pole vault over 14 feet in a Buckeye meet. The 17-year-old, 5 - 9 senior clear the bar at 14 feet, ½ inch to erase the record of 13-6 set a year ago by Jim Showers of Marion Harding. Eight teams broke the old mile relay record as Cleveland John Marshall won the event in 3:25.9. Five men bettered the old half-mile record as Ricky Poole, Dayton Jefferson's state cross - country champion, triumphed in 1:56.3. Four teams cracked the record in the two-mile relay, won by Cleveland John Marshall in 8:06.6, and three broke the old record in the medley relay as Birmingham, Mich., Seaholm won in 7:47.3.

Other records went to Bob Richards of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., with a 4:20.2 mile; Martin McGrady, Akron Garfield senior in the 440 in 49 seconds and Dayton Chaminade in the four-mile relay with 18:38.5.

Here's how they scored: Akron South 18, Mansfield Malabar 17, Bedford Chancel 15, Birmingham, Mich. Seaholm 14, Youngstown South 13, Cleveland John Marshall 12, Dayton Jefferson 10, Akron Kenmore 9, Cleveland Glenville 9, Columbus Central 9, Cincinnati Taft 8, Lakewood 8, Akron East 8, Cleveland East Tech (defending champion) 7, Dayton Chaminade 6, Cleveland West 6, Dayton Dunbar (state champion) 6, Cleveland St. Joseph 6, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., 6, Akron Garfield 6, Erie, Pa., McDowell 6, River Rouge, Mich., 6, Toledo Woodward 6, Springfield South 6, Dayton Roosevelt 5, Ashland 4, Gahanna 4, Cleveland St. Ignatius 4, Shelby 4, Columbiana 4, Scottsdale, Pa., 4, Ann Arbor, Mich., 3, Mentor 3, Cleveland Rhodes 3, Fairborn 3, Kettering Fairmont West 2, Detroit Central Catholic 2, Akron North 2, Roseville, Mich., 2, Akron Buchtel 2, Drayton Plains, Mich., 2, Mount Clemens, Mich., 2, Cleveland Shaw 2, Willow Run, Mich., 2, Cleveland Benedictine 1, Garden City, Mich., 1, Dayton Oakwood 1, Norwalk 1, Parma 1, Gwin, Mich., 1, Dayton Belmont 1, Cleveland Brooklyn 1, Columbus West 1, Amherst Steele 1, Mansfield Senior 1 and Newark 1.

A's Dump Cards 4-2 On Last Day Of Exhibitions; Dodgers Triumph

By MURRAY CHASS Associated Press Sports Writer

Owner Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics should have insisted on a money-back guarantee when he purchased his Pennant Porch.

Based on a two-day trial, the porch isn't about to win the Athletics any pennants.

Two more home runs were hit at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium Sunday as the Athletics downed St. Louis 4-2 on the last day of the exhibition grind.

That made eight homers in all, three by the A's and five by the Cardinals, in the two-game series that inaugurated the plywood porch, a green and yellow fence that cuts the length of a home run to right field from 338 feet to 296.

All of the home runs missed the porch, which is Finley's latest move to combat what he believes are the ills and inequities of baseball.

Actually, Finley has more

Ortiz Keeps Crown, Eyes New Foe

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, fresh off an impressive title defense against Kenny Lane, is expected to choose his next challenger within a month.

Bill Daley, manager of the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, said today that Ortiz is considering three possible opponents. He has been offered $100,000 to defend against featherweight champion Sugar Ramos in Los Angeles and $60,000 to fight Willy Quatier in Berlin or Johnny Bizzarro in Pittsburgh.

Lane, the Muskegon, Mich., left-hander who had campaigned for his shot at the crown while Ortiz met other challengers, left for home Sunday after fumbling his second, and possibly last, title fight.

"I should have jumped him. I waited too long to get going," said Lane. "If I had pressed the fight, he would have run out of gas."

Ortiz, scornful of the challenger who was forced upon him by the World Boxing Association, called Lane "overrated."

"He ran all night. If he had fought, I would have knocked him out," said the champion. Lane was down for no count in the 14th round.

The major league minimum salary is $7,000 per year.

Finley Ordered To Remove Ill-Famed "Pennant Porch"

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "It's a matter of principle," Charles O. Finley says of his short home run porch, "to finally bring the Yankees in line." The outspoken Kansas City owner plans another move today with the same goal.

Finley made it clear he has no intentions of giving up his effort to demonstrate—with plywood fences, paint and temporary bleachers—what he feels are the inequities of New York's Yankee Stadium.

Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, and Joe Cronin, president of the American League, ordered Finley in stern words to take down his "pennant porch," a green and yellow near-replica of the right field sector in Yankee Stadium, where the foul line homer distance is 296 feet.

Finley gave no hint of his next move Sunday, saying "first I want to give Mr. Cronin and Mr. Frick the courtesy of a phone call, which is more than they gave me."

"I'm trying to be nice and within the rules but I have more moves in mind, if they can't see the fairness of this."

"My manager, Ed Lopat, was a great pitcher with the Yankees," Finley said. "I've talked to others. It's a fact you have to pitch differently in Yankee Stadium than the other nine parks. It's unfair.

"The show hasn't changed in 18 years in the American League," he said. "As an owner, I'm concerned. Yankee domination could reach the point of no return. They win because their hitters learn to take advantage of the stadium with cheap homers."

"Why shouldn't there be a screen in Yankee Stadium to compensate for the homer distance of less than the 325 feet in the rule book? In Boston it's only 315 to left, but the wall is 37 feet high, not 51 inches as in the stadium."

"Certainly, my porch is against the intent of the rule, but what about the Yanks? The rule says 325 to the pole, not the nearest fence and I'm within the rule. I can't operate on intent."

Frick indicated it was a matter of principle with him, too, as he declared, "there's only one interpretation and I make that. There's no hearing, no appeal, no nothing."

The best one season runs - batted-in total achieved by two players on the same team is 347. The mark was set in 1931 by Yankee first baseman Lou Gehrig (184) and right fielder Babe Ruth (163).

moves than a belly dancer. The latest has helped get the 1964 season off to a bumpy start.

Of the two home runs hit Sunday, George Williams' two-run blow that won the game for the A's went to left-center while Johnny Lewis legged out an inside-the-park homer for St. Louis. Five of the six hit in the Cardinals' 9-7 victory Saturday soared to left field. The sixth went to center.

The exhibition championships went to San Francisco in the National League and Minnesota in the American. The Giants nipped Cleveland 7-6 while the Twins downed Detroit 3-1 Sunday.

In other games, the Los Angeles Angels blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-0, the Chicago White Sox beat Cincinnati 14-10, the Chicago Cubs whipped Boston 6-3, Philadelphia edged Baltimore 3-2 and Washington rallied for an 8-7 victory over Pittsburgh.

Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League nipped Milwaukee 6-5, and Richmond of the International League defeated the New York Yankees 3-2.

Palmer's 276, 2nd Lowest Mark In Masters History

Nicklaus Finishes In Tie With Marr

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Not so long ago, there was a golf champion everybody liked. He won the big tournaments and did impossible things.

Soon he was rich and famous. Then he didn't win any big tournaments or do any impossible things for a while, and people said he didn't know how to, anymore. They said he was too rich, and besides he couldn't putt like he used to.

Even Arnold Palmer heard the stories.

"The question mark was as big in my mind as in anybody else's when I stepped up to the first tee here," Palmer said, after he won his fourth Masters Golf Tournament over the Augusta National Course Sunday.

"It was like checking out an airplane with new spark plugs. I wasn't sure how they would function."

They worked. Palmer shot rounds of 69, 68, 69 and 70 for 276, and achieved the following results:

He led all the way.

He had the second lowest total in the 31-year history of the Masters.

He had the second largest victory margin, six strokes. Defending champion Jack Nicklaus was second at 282, along with touring pro Dave Marr.

He didn't three putt a green until the 10th hole of the final round, when the issue had already been decided.

He won $20,000 in prize money, and struck what should amount to a million dollar blow for Arnold Palmer Enterprises, which manufacture almost everything but baby food and caskets.

And he struck the biggest blow to cigarette smoking since they locked Sir Walter Raleigh up in the Tower of London.

Palmer quit smoking on Jan. 27, and his resultant struggles were almost as public as the courtship of Elizabeth Taylor.

"I had a block about quitting. It seemed to affect my play around the greens. Now I've licked that," Palmer said.

Palmer opened play Sunday with a five - stroke lead over young Australian pro Bruce Devlin, and six over Marr.

Nicklaus, the big Ohioan who won two of the four big titles last year just missed a third, had never got started in this tournament and was nine strokes back, after rounds of 71, 73 and 71.

Young Jack, the main threat to Arnie's throne, ripped off a final round 67, including a drive on the 15th hole that must have carried 350 yards.

It wasn't enough, of course, as Palmer stroked steadily to his 70.

Young Marr, who played a round he called "not very good, but interesting," scratched to within three strokes of Palmer at No. 10, but he dunked his tee shot into the water at the short 12th, and had to make a 25-foot twisting putt on the last hole to tie Nicklaus for second.

The putt was worth $2,000 to Marr, who would have collected only $8,000 for third if he had missed.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Money winners in Sunday's final round of the Masters Golf Tournament include:

Arnold Palmer, $20,000	69-68-69-70-276
Jack Nicklaus, $10,000	71-73-71-67-282
Dave Marr, $10,000	70-73-69-70-282

Cincy Opens Major League Season Today With Houston

CINCINNATI (AP)—An overflow crowd of 32,000 fans was expected to jam into Crosley Field this afternoon for the 1964 National League baseball opener between the Cincinnati Reds and Houston Colts.

Game time was 2:30 p.m. and the Weather Bureau said "scattered heavy showers and thundershowers" predicted for today should be over by the time the familiar "play ball" was sounded.

Cincinnati traditionally gets to inaugurate each new season because it is the home of the first professional baseball team. The other eight National League teams swing into action tomorrow.

Manager Fred Hutchinson sicked Jim Maloney, 23-game winner last year, to start for Cincinnati.

Houston Manager Harry Craft abbed Ken Johnson, veteran right-hander and knuckleball specialist, as his starter. Johnson, a former Red, was 11-17 in 1963.

In pre-game fanfare, Mayor Walt Bachrach will make the first pitch to City Manager William Wichman. The batter will be Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The only newcomer in the probable Cincinnati starting line up will be rookie Chico Ruiz. He'll be at third base and bat second. The Reds said Frank Robinson, sidelined for almost a week with a groin infection, has recovered sufficiently to take his place in rightfield.

The probable starting line up:

HOUSTON	CINCINNATI

FIRST BALL

Zepernick Walks Off With 3 Awards

Leetonia Honors Athletes At All-Sports Banquet

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

Three Leetonia high school gridders and a basketball star were honored at the 5th annual all-sports banquet of the Leetonia - Washingtonville Athletic Boosters Club Saturday night at Orchard Hill School.

George Zepernick, one of Leetonia's all-time great athletes, won a unique trophy naming him high scorer, best foul shooter and best rebounder of the 1964 basketball squad. This is the first time in the history of the school that one athlete has won all three awards.

Zepernick, 6'5 center, tallied an average of 26 points per game. He had an average of 20 rebounds per game. He was named to the third team All-Ohio squad among Class A schools and to the first team in the all-Tri-County selections. He plans to attend Westminster College.

Marty Orr was chosen as most valuable lineman by the football backs and Melvin Van Fossan was chosen most valuable back by the linemen. The coaches selected Dave Conrad, sophomore griddier, as the "most improved" player.

Orr, a junior, was a stellar center linebacker for the Bears and VanFossan exhibited versatility and power as both defensive and offensive halfback.

Conrad, from out of a strongly athletic family and with great potential, started at fullback but injuries forced him to play at halfback when VanFossan was hurt and at quarterback when Rich Oxley was hurt.

Basketball Coach Len Batcha told the 250 persons present that the 5-13 record of the season was "not a true picture" of the team's ability. The team was young and inexperienced and Batcha is expecting an improvement in the record next year.

Grid Coach Carl Kokor, embarking on his second season as Bear grid coach, said that regardless of the season's record, Leetonia athletes have a tradition of high regard wherever they play or go. Bad luck with injuries contributed heavily to the misfortunes of last grid season.

Wildlife Notes

Bass are present in each of 14 ponds now open for public use in the Delaware wildlife area—along with bluegills, crappie, bullheads and redear sunfish. Another 14 ponds are being stocked and will be opened in 1965. Each pond has one or more wood duck nest boxes supported on a post, and persons molesting the nests are subject to arrest.

Four state parks now have 104 housekeeping cabins in operation, and reservations must be made with managers of the individual park offices.

The cabins, all with sleeping and cooking facilities, are distributed as follows: Hueston Woods, Butler-Preble counties, 4; Lake Hope, Vinton County, 21; Pymatuning, Ashtabula County, 35, and Pike Lake, Pike County, 14.

Lake Hope, with 23 sleeping cabins but no cooking facilities, opens May 1.

The 105-acre lake in Forked Run State Park, Meigs County, has been stocked with 1,000 trout running from 8 to 11 inches. The lake also contains spotted and largemouth bass, bluegills and channel catfish.

Leo Strang, who will be making his debut as head mentor of the Kent State Golden Flashes in the fall after a successful six-year career at Massillon, pointed out examples of boys he has coached whom he holds in highest regard.

All the most respected young men he has tutored at Cleveland Shaw, Upper Sandusky or Massillon have been boys with "great hearts", he said. Many of them have been "undersized" as grid stars come today, but they made up for their slightness with "great spirit and desire". A great athlete must also be unselfish, he said.

"You must pay a price for what you want in sports or in life," Strang declared.

The mentor told of plans to fashion the Golden Flashes into a real power in the Mid-American Conference. "We have a new stadium, and are bringing some of the really great athletes of this section into our ranks," he said.

Strang said he likes to "dress up a team" and described the new snappy, blue, white and gold uniforms, accentuated by thunderbolts, the Flashes will sport when they take to the field this fall.

John Hogue, president of the Boosters Club, presented trophies to the quartet of winners and David Patterson, PTO president, served as master of ceremonies.

Other officers of the Boosters presented were Dick Gregory, vice-president; Al Stump, secretary; and Frank Painter, treasurer.

Sebring Man Gets 1st Ace At Robbyn's Knoll

Dominic "Doss" Frank of Sebring has scored the first hole-in-one of the season at Robbyn's Knoll golf course Sunday.

Frank made his ace on the par 3, 147-yard No. 2 hole, using a seven iron. Finishing the round of nine holes with a total of 40 strokes, the Sebring man was playing with Robert Higgins, Floyd Court and Art Schroeder all of Sebring.

Gene Smythe, owner of Robbyn's Knoll, said 400 persons played his course over the weekend.

Indians Lose To Giants 7-6, Open With Twins Tuesday

CLEVELAND (AP) — A big welcome was planned today for the Cleveland Indians, who play the Minnesota Twins here Tuesday in their opening game of the baseball season.

The Indians, who completed their exhibition season Sunday by dropping a 7-6 decision to the San Francisco Giants, were to be escorted in a parade from Cleveland Hopkins Airport to the Cleveland Advertising Club downtown for a luncheon.

A crowd of about 25,000 is expected for Tuesday's game, scheduled to start at 2 p.m., in which Jim (Mudcat) Grant will pitch for the Tribe and Camilo Pascual will start for the Twins. Both are veteran righthanders.

The Indians will be under the George Strickland, this season. Strickland stepped in from his third base coaching job to take over supervision of the club when Manager Birdie Tebbetts suffered a heart attack at Tucson, Ariz., April 1, shortly before the Indians broke camp there.

"I'll do the best job I can," says Strickland, a former Cleveland infielder. "And I think I know how Birdie would want me to handle it. But he can't

McGuire Named Cage Coach At Marquette

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette, hoping to regain a place among the nation's major independent basketball powers, has dipped into the small college ranks and picked Al McGuire as the ninth coach in the university's 47-year history of the sport.

McGuire, a 35-year-old former St. John's University star and pro standout, was recruited from the Belmont Abbey College campus in Belmont, N.C., Saturday to try and restore Marquette court fortunes.

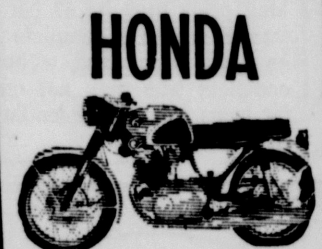

Dr. Thomas R. Abbott, chairman of the Marquette athletic board, said McGuire was selected to succeed the fired Eddie Hickey from more than 50 applicants, only three of whom were interviewed personally.

At the same time, the board named Stan Lowe, 60, a member of the school's athletic department since 1924, as athletic director. Hickey had held both posts until he was fired after the most dismal season in Marquette basketball history. The Warriors won only five of 26 games.

McGuire said that he agreed to a two-year contract.

McGuire was captain of the 1951 St. John's team which finished third in the National Invitation Tournament. He played for the New York Knickerbockers in the National Basketball Association and then served as an assistant at Dartmouth from 1951-56.

He moved to Belmont Abbey seven years ago and compiled an over-all record of 120 victories and 60 defeats. Five of his teams went to small college post-season tournaments.

Mineral Rights Lease:

Have Agreement Checked Before Signing, Is Advice

The recent oil boom in some areas of Ohio has left landowners perplexed about leasing mineral rights. Here are some guidelines for landowners to follow. They are offered by Walter G. Harter, Ohio State University extension economist in farm management.

Do not sign any lease until it has been checked over by an attorney to make sure it says exactly what you want it to say.

Most leases are standard printed forms which follow the pattern developed by the oil industry through the years.

The usual rental payment is $1 per acre.

Competition in an area may force bonuses for signing the lease.

In considering a mineral lease, avoid hasty decisions. Try to obtain all the facts and information that are available. Try to gain maximum returns in one form or another, whether or not oil is found.

DEAL WITH THE dominant lessee in the area. If several hold intermingled leases, plans of all may be delayed. Avoid selling to an independent speculator who is trying to break into a block. Leasing to small promoters is dangerous. The risk of failure is too great. Some leases are not automatically canceled, and this can leave a cloud on the land title which can be expensive to remove.

Ask the lessee for bank references; then check these references before signing the lease.

Usual wording terminates the lease at the end of one year unless the lessee has started to drill a well. Have your attorney check on this clause.

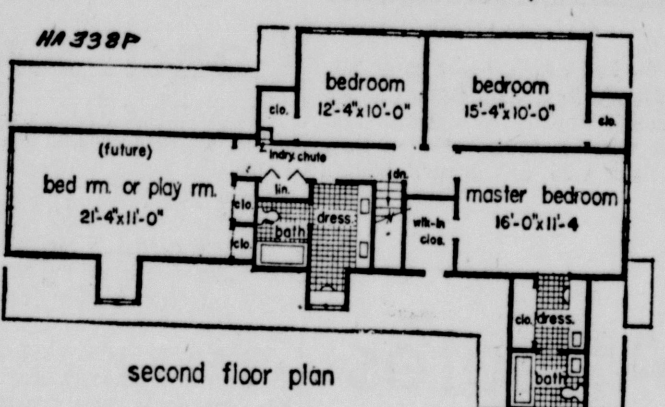

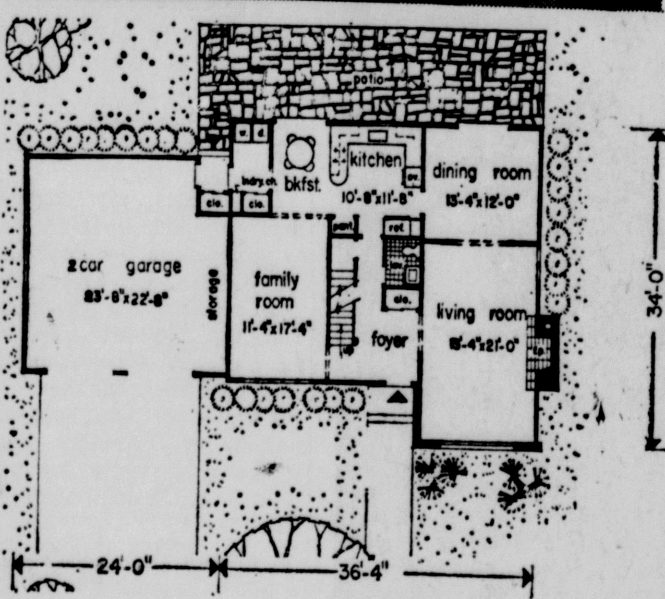

ONE-EIGHTH of the gross selling price of oil or gas is customary royalty and usually better than a flat rate per well.

Leases more favorable to the landowner use the phrase "commence drilling of a well" by the end of a primary period in order to keep the lease in force.

Avoid a "dry-hole" clause which allows the lessee to retain the lease for the rest of the term without paying rentals or conducting additional drilling.

Make sure the lease contains clauses to prevent drilling within certain distances of buildings, to make the lessee bury all pipelines below plow depth, and to pay for damage to crops, tile drains, fences, or other improvements.

Keen competition in an area can bring about many lease changes, especially if the changes are reasonable, Harter says. He suggests landowners consider the effect which mineral leases might have on the sale value of their land. When mineral rights are not included with the land at the time of sale, the land price may be 40 per cent less than with a complete title, he says. Also, land without a complete title may not qualify for loans from many lending institutions.

COLONIAL FACADE surrounds a modern interior in this trim one and a half story design. One advantage is the economy of the second floor construction, which contains four bedrooms and two lavish bathroom-dressing room combinations. The large room over the garage can be finished at a later date or used as a playroom or the whole wing could be placed at the rear of the lot—enabling construction on a 55-foot lot. A clothes chute dumps laundry into the laundry room hamper. The breakfast nook, pantry and living room fireplace also are noteworthy. Plan HA38P was designed by Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 St., Jamaica 32, N.Y., with 1,101 square feet of living space.

Select Floor Finish From Wide Variety

The home owner who resurfaces a wooden floor has a variety of finishes from which to choose. He can use a stain, a varnish stain, paint, shellac, varnish, a penetrating sealer or a synthetic.

An oil stain adds color to the floor without hiding the grain. The time between the application and the wiping with a clean cloth determines the shading. The longer the stain is allowed to stay on, the darker the shade. It is well to remember, also, that stain tends to become darker with time so a light color that suits you now may be somewhat darker a year from now.

Varnish stain is used when you want to apply a stain and a varnish at the same time. Professional refinishers say that this produces an acceptable result, but not as good as when the stain and clear varnish are applied separately. There's no argument about the fact that a varnish stain is a time-saver.

Paint rarely is used on good, hardwood floors, since it quite obviously hides the beauty of the grain. It is selected for special purposes where a particular color is desired and where there is no reason to show the design of the wood.

Shellac is one of the old finishing stand-bys. It is easy to apply and dries quickly. Critics say it has a tendency to become brittle under hard wear, but this condition usually is caused by the application of one or two thick coats instead of three or four thin ones. Shellac should not be applied when high humidity is present.

Varnish is another old-timer in the floor-finishing field. It dries slowly to a hard-durable finish. Because of this slow-drying property, every precaution must be taken to keep dust from settling on it after each application. It should be sanded lightly between coats.

Penetrating sealer is not a surface coating, as shellac and varnish are. It sinks into the pores of the wood. Because of this, it does not mar easily. It is simple to apply.

The synthetic or plastic finish is clear and tough and is often used for bowling lanes. A second coat can be applied in an hour or so. While it normally dries to a satin sheen, a high gloss can be obtained if the third and final coat is thinned according to directions with a reducer.

Both the penetrating sealer and the plastic finish have the advantage of being easy to touch up at a later time without showing lap marks.

For nails up to and including 10-penny, you can find out the length in inches by dividing the penny size by 4 and adding 1/2. Example: for a 10-penny nail, divide by 4, which is 2 1/2. Add 1/2 and you get 3 inches, the size of a 10-penny nail.

Special Nails Give More Holding Power

Home owners handy with a hammer are finding they can do much better nailing jobs when they replace the common round nail with the various special purpose nails developed by nail makers.

Modern nails are square, grooved, corrugated and some even have a screw-type shank, combining the ease of nail driving with the holding power of a threaded screw. Modern nails have as many as nine different kinds of points, 16 different head styles and eight or more finishes. The purpose of a nail is to hold, and the various special purpose nails have been designed to hold under practically all circumstances.

Although research has produced a myriad of kinds and sizes of American nails, home owners need know only a half dozen or so to improve their performance around the house.

It has been estimated that from 50,000 to 67,000 nails of a dozen or more kinds are required to put up the average frame house. Using the right nail for each different nailing requirement is what keeps the house together.

Here are a few helpful nail-

ing tips:

Use sharp pointed nails to prevent splitting soft woods, and blunt or even pointless nails for hardwoods, such as oak.

Dont' use a smooth nail for fastening shingles or shakes to the side of a house; use a ring-shank or shake-nail. This nail has tiny rings or corrugations around the shank to give it a good grip against vibrations. Variations of this nail are used for gypsum board and other dry walls, for siding and subflooring.

Use a screw-shank or drive-screw nail (it looks like a long slender screw) on flooring, roof rafters and even cabinets. Tests confirm these nails have eight times the holding power of "common nails."

Use a square nail with serrations running across its four sides wherever there is need for great shear strength. In addition to having 50 per cent greater shear strength his nail won't turn in wood, holds better and minimizes splitting. And there are more of them in a pound—because the square nail requires about 20 per cent less steel than do round nails.

Roofing nails are a class by themselves with special nails for different kinds of roofing, a critical consideration being the size and shape of the head. Galvanized steel roofing, for example, should be secured by nails with umbrella-shaped heads. In any case, foolishly economizing with ordinary small-headed nails may cost hundreds of dollars later from water or wind damage.

"Revolutionary Nationwide plan makes life insurance simpler and cheaper than ever before"

Until today, you had to buy different policies for different needs. One to insure your life. Another for your mortgage. Still another for your retirement. And so on. This was confusing and complicated. Also expensive — you had to pay a lot of "new policy" costs.

Now Nationwide Insurance introduces an exclusive new plan that lets one life insurance policy do the job of two, three, four — or more different policies. Here's how this new plan works:

You buy one basic Nationwide life insurance policy on yourself. Later, to insure your wife and any children, you simply select Nationwide's new "Family Benefit," and add it to your basic Nationwide policy.

There's no need to buy a brand new policy. You don't pay the extra cost of having a policy written. And you don't pay for duplicate protection, something that often occurs when you have separate policies.

Nationwide offers a total of nine new "Benefits." Each one fills a different need. You can add just one or all nine to your Nationwide policy any time during your life. And you can drop them as your needs change.

This is the most flexible life insurance plan in America — and only Nationwide has it.

Exclusive benefit for Nationwide policyholders: Most Nationwide life insurance policies bought since 1948 can now be revised with these nine new "Benefits." For complete details on this new plan, call today.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I iron a knee patch (such as is ordinarily used on blue jeans) on the ironing board cover where my iron rests. This makes the cover last twice as long.

When I see the patch beginning to wear, I take it off and iron on another patch the same color as the cover. The iron goes over these type patches smoothly even if I need to use THAT end of the ironing board!

The patches can be bought in any dime store. It has saved me replacing the cover so often. MRS. J. DREANY.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's more credit for vinegar: To wash baby's plastic pants, use hand soap, rinse and soak for one gallon of water and one-half cup vinegar.

It's the only thing I've found that works. After they are dry, rub with talc. ROBERTA BREWER.

DEAR HELOISE: My answer to pasting down trading stamps:

I dampen a terry wash cloth, wring it out and lay flat on my kitchen table. . . . I then place my stamps on the damp cloth, press down on them with my hand, put them in the book and the job is a breeze — especially good for all of those little loose stamps . . . and nothing gets too wet.

I can drink coffee at the same time and it is a perfect time for meditating on "our" other problems. GLORIA WATSON.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder if anyone has ever thought of using plastic tablecloths for "special seasons" and making inexpensive, colorful, kitchen curtains out of them?

M. PETERS.

I don't know whether they have or not but the cutest curtains I ever made for my kitchen and bathroom were made from some of these darling plastic tablecloths which I got on sale.

They require no hemming whatsoever, and even if a woman cannot sew she can't possibly make a mistake. I used pinking shears on mine, but it is not necessary.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm not very bright in the mornings. . . . Often, as I scurry (sleepily) to breakfast, I forget those little slashes in the bacon rind to prevent my bacon from curling. I especially needed for six slices, which my husband prefers.

Now, I cut through the top and bottom rinds on the edges, all-at-once, before I EVER put the package in the refrigerator. What a time and temper saver!

MRS. O. DOSS.

DEAR HELOISE: For women with rubber overshoes still in good condition except for one or both heels cut through at the heels . . . try taking a pair of scissors and cutting the heels COMPLETELY OFF. Result? A good pair of "toe" boots!

This idea came to me after pondering over discarding a very good pair of boots with one bad heel. Now I have a good pair of "toe" boots.

E. B.

I think this is a very thrifty idea for a common problem we all have. Saves the price of a new pair!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: How many people have ever been annoyed by having the cork of a thermos bottle pop up after they have poured in the contents. . .

Did you know that if you dip the cork in a bowl of sugar before putting it in the hot liquid that it won't pop up? Try it. It works.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Our twelfth anniversary celebration is over and I am glad. We had a lot of people in, many more than ever before. We hope most of them will come back again soon but not all at once.

You will find lots of good values again this week in every department.

Some people who won the free steaks at the home show have not been in yet. If you guessed within seven cents of $27.53 you won two steak dinners.
